Question Raised at the 33rd Annual General Meeting of Singapore Post Limited ("SingPost" or the "Company") held on 23 July 2025 and the Company's Responses

Question/Comment 1

A shareholder asked about the Company's strategy following the divestment of its Australia business in March 2025 and whether the Company plans to carry on the business as usual and build on what it currently has.

The Chairman shared that the completion of the Company's divestment of its Australia business was a major divestment which enabled value to be unlocked for shareholders and some of that value had been returned to shareholders by way of the proposed special dividend. Given the scale of this change, the Board believed it was important to a pause to ensure the Company remained stable with the right management team in place with a clear strategy being formulated.

Question/Comment 2

A shareholder has proposed that the Company consider issuing a commemorative stamp in recognition of World Toilet Day and also recommended retaining the P.O. Box at Raffles City. Another shareholder asked whether sending parcels to the USA incurs tariffs and also suggested that the Company consider preserving the SingPost Centre as a heritage building over the next 20 to 30 years.

The Group COO thanked the shareholders for their feedback and responded that Management will engage them on these operational matters following the conclusion of the AGM.

Question/Comment 3

A shareholder asked what type of Group Chief Executive Officer ("Group CEO") the Company was seeking to recruit, given that the strategy is currently in flux, and whether such an appointment was necessary considering the current evolving strategic direction the Company was undertaking.

The Chairman-designate thanked the shareholder for his views and highlighted the Board's appreciation of all shareholders feedback and continued engagement. The Board would continue to carefully review the situation in formulating its strategy ahead and expected there to be meaningful engagements with all key stakeholders as the Board considers the best path forward. Besides shareholders as an important group of stakeholders, the Company also had responsibilities to its customers, regulators and employees.

The Chairman-designate further highlighted that the Board was aware of the current challenges facing the Company and its industry, and that these challenges highlighted the need for strong leadership to navigate the path ahead for the Company. The Board was of the view that having a Group CEO was necessary as a matter of good governance and the Board was in the midst of considering potential candidates.

Question/Comment 4

A shareholder observed that the Annual Report FY2024/25 referenced a discrepancy between the market value and the intrinsic value of the Company and requested clarification on the intrinsic value as assessed by the Board and management. A shareholder also asked how the Company unlocked the value of its non-core businesses and assets.

The Chairman explained that the Board had engaged an external advisor during the 2023-24 period as part of the Company's strategic review to conduct a valuation of the Company. Upon receiving the valuation, it became evident that the Company was undervalued. Consequently, the Board recognized its duty to shareholders to unlock this value.

One of the findings of the strategic review was that the valuation of the Company did not adequately reflect the value of the Australian business, which the Board identified as a major catalyst for growth. During the review process, the Company received unsolicited offers for the Australian business that exceeded the valuation provided. Although the Australian business was a core asset, the Board decided to proceed with the sale process to consider the options available to unlock value for shareholders. This proposed disposal was subsequently approved by the shareholders by a strong majority.

The other recent divestment was in respect of the Company's freight forwarding business, with majority of the earnings from this business derived from operations in Japan and the Netherlands. However, the business was highly volatile and heavily dependent on key personal relationships. Given this volatility and the uncertainty surrounding the continuity of those relationships, the Board determined that previously determined such business to be non-core and made the decision to proceed with its divestment.

During the strategic review, SingPost Centre was assessed to be a non-core asset, as the Company was inherently not a property business. However, the Board had made clear there is no set timeline for asset disposals. Given current conditions, property earnings are supporting short-term performance, and the Board will evaluate whether the importance of SingPost Centre to the Company's business moving forward and this may well become a core asset today.

Question/Comment 5

A shareholder provided feedback with the issues that shareholder had experienced relating to, inter alia, undelivered mail and problems concerning the shareholder's letter box.

The Group COO expressed her regret that the shareholder had experienced such issues and would engage with the shareholder to further discuss this matter following the conclusion of the AGM.
